Subsection a

SPECIAL POLICY FOR TOTALLY DISABLED AND/OR SENIOR CITIZENS AUDITORS

In accordance with provisions of Tennessee Code Annotated, Section 49-3251, subsection (a), you are being provisionally accepted to audit a course at The University of Tennessee at Chattanooga without paying regular fees. This acceptance is provisional, subject to the availability of class space. Acceptance becomes definite only if there is space remaining in the class (for auditors) at the close of the last day for adding courses, after all fee-paying students have been accommodated.

If you wish to audit a class and be assured of a space on the class roll, you may pay the regular fees and attend the class as any other fee-paying auditor. However, in choosing this option you may not change your status from fee-paying to disabled/senior citizen classification (where no fees are involved) at some later date and expect to be refunded for the fees you paid at the time of registration.

If you desire a textbook or other class materials, you must purchase these. Also, you must pay for other special services you may desire, such as parking.

SPECIAL NOTE:

Students auditing classes are under no obligation to attend classes regularly, answer questions, prepare homework assignments, or take examinations. They receive no credit for the class. They may not take part in classroom discussions, laboratory, or field work, except in small classes with the permission of the instructor.
