

ADJUNCT FACULTY ASSESSMENT AT THE ESL INSTITUTE

EVALUATION STANDARDS

The ESL Institute evaluates all ESL faculty members annually. The scope of evaluation is determined by the assigned duties specified in each faculty member's appointment letter and in the ESL Faculty Handbook. For more details, please consult the following:

Appointment Letter

Appointment letters are shared with ESL Faculty prior to the beginning of each term.

ESL Faculty Handbook

Standards and expectations are outlined in the ESL Faculty Handbook. The ESL Faculty Handbook will be made available to all ESL Faculty prior to their first day of class.

ESL Program Curriculum

In addition to outlining the anticipated learning outcomes for each course, the ESL Curriculum contains useful information pertaining to the instructional strategies implemented at the ESL Institute.

UTC Faculty Handbook

All policies regarding UTC Faculty organization, responsibilities and expectations can be found in the UTC Faculty Handbook (available here: https://www.utc.edu/faculty-senate/handbook.php).

UTC Code of Conduct

Standards laid out in the UTC Code of Conduct apply to all faculty members. (available here: https://policy.tennessee.edu/hr_policy/hr0580/).

ESL Adjunct Faculty Evaluation is both developmental and evaluative in nature. The results of the ESL Adjunct Faculty Evaluation play an important role in future course assignments. Data collected during the evaluation process is also used to decide on instructors' future developmental goals and their training focuses.

LESSON OBSERVATIONS

Lesson observations serve as the primary means of gathering information pertaining to faculty inclass performance. The main focus of lesson observation is to promote faculty development and to provide support and assistance with classroom challenges. At least one lesson observation will be conducted for each faculty member annually. Additional observations may be scheduled at the discretion of the ESL Institute. Teaching assistants will be observed during at least 3 lessons during their first year of employment.

All lesson observations are unannounced. The goal of the supervisor is to observe a typical lesson. The supervisor may sit in on an entire or partial class depending on the volume of data collection required. The supervisor will complete a lesson observation form and make notes that will later be referenced during a follow-up meeting with the instructor. The Instructor will be given a self-evaluation form and will be encouraged to share their perspective on the lesson. In order to ensure the validity and objectivity of the evaluation, students are also requested to complete a form and provide their feedback about the lesson.

POST-OBSERVATION CONFERENCE

Student feedback, faculty self-evaluation and the supervisor's notes are reviewed collaboratively during a follow-up meeting that the supervisor sets up with the instructor. During the meeting, different perspectives on the lesson can be shared. Any challenges the faculty may be facing are also discussed (e.g. uncooperative students, technology difficulties, facility issues, etc.). Both parties work together to come up with potential solutions or suggestions. They also decide on the focus for future teaching events.

DATA COLLECTION

Performance data is collected throughout the evaluation cycle. The data includes the following:

- Lesson observation notes (supervisor's notes, instructor's self-evaluation form)
- Student achievement data (TOEFL scores, online midterm test scores, iQ Online statistics including activity completion, average course average and average seat time)
- Student feedback (recorded in a Banner-based questionnaire; the Exit Form; the Help Us Improve Our Program Form distributed after lesson observation; and the student feedback log based on walk-ins, phone calls and emails)
- Commitment to professional development (demonstrated by the faculty member's number of training sessions logged by the ESL Institute)
- UTC staff feedback
- Faculty feedback
