Other Issues

Safety & Security Advisory Committee met on 1/13/2020 to give update on various projects utilizing money from a recent one-time state appropriated funds from THEC to be used on upgrading safety & security. Some of the updates include updating security cameras, more security cameras in high traffic areas, an upgraded dispatch center, and new/upgraded technology in patrol cars.

FLSA & Equity Pool Allocations

The Fair Labor Standards Act changed the salary threshold for exempt staff to $35,568 or more. A total of 21 regular positions were evaluated against the full exempt classification FLSA guidelines and identified to receive an adjustment to their base annual salary to meet or exceed the new threshold minimum. Other positions were transitioned to non-exempt status. The new threshold became effective January 1, 2020.

Chancellor Angle and Dr. Richard Brown have dedicated a pool of funds to address staff equity for the past three years. A pool of $150,000 was available to use this fiscal year and allocations were confirmed and executed in the fall. Although equality allocations were identified across most divisions, this year the majority of funds were used to finalize the new public safety compensation structure and adjust dispatchers, unarmed security guards, and public safety leadership (23 positions in total) to a more competitive market compensation point.

Performance Reviews

Performance reviews are due to HR by March 31, 2020. We will accept them at any time, but the final deadline, as communicated in policy, is 3/31/2020. Performance management development workshops began back in the fall for supervisors/managers. No changes have been made to the performance review summary form this year and it is the only form that is required to be submitted.

When asked about the timing for probationary reviews and performance reviews both being submitted, Ms. Pou responded that policy states that only one performance review per year is required, it is recommended that if a probationary review is performed early in the year, that the supervisor also go ahead and complete the annual performance review to capture the latter half of the year.
